Feds appear poised to fund lengthening of Col. Dyke runway

Would allow airfield to service larger planes, including small jets

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Federal Aviation Administration may be willing to spend up to $2 million in grant money to extend the runway at the Col. Dyke Airfield, Bethel selectmen were told Monday.

No one from the town had applied for the grant money, Town Manager Phil Tarr said. But on Tuesday Airport Authority Chairman Arlan Jodrey said, "We knew things were being worked on in the background."

Asked who had been working on the grant, Jodrey said those involved were engineers connected with the airport and "Sunday River transportation people."

A runway extension would allow the airport to serve larger planes, including a Falcon jet owned by the American Skiing Company. The jet currently alternates between the airports in Lewiston or Berlin, N.H.

ASC CEO Les Otten has favored extending the runway for some time.

The proposed 850-foot extension would bring the total length to 4,000 feet.

There has been no official confirmation of the FAA grant, but, said Tarr, "there is some credibility" to the notion that the town will get between $1 million and $2 million.

Few objections raised at Comp. Plan hearing

By MICHAEL DANIELS

"It's a good plan, and the town needs it, but beware the devil in the details" -- that was the clear message at Tuesday evening's public hearing on the most recent draft of Bethel's proposed new comprehensive plan.

The message was heard by the Comprehensive Plan Committee, chairman Ken Bohr said Wednesday, and the points raised at the hearing will be seriously considered when the committee meets again Tuesday, May 26, to make the final revisions to the document.

Three dozen people, many of them present or former members of the Comprehensive Plan Committee or Planning Board, turned out for Tuesday's hearing.

The discussion, however, was dominated by two members of the audience: Bob Chadbourne and Don Feecey.

Both men praised the plan and the work that went into it, but both also argued the draft occasionally reached for a level of detail that was best left to future discussions.

Chadbourne, who is currently a selectman, described the Comprehensive Plan Committee as "very dedicated and conscientious in carrying out its duties."

But he worried the draft described a number of initiatives that could prove costly to the town.

"In reading through this it appears to me that the implementation of many of the programs it describes could be very costly to the town," he said. "We need to understand the financial implications."

For example, he said, the Capital Investment Plan included in the draft contains projections for a number of large expenditures that have not yet been voted on by either the Board of Selectmen or Budget Committee.

He characterized the items in-

Haz-Mat training in Greenwood

GETTING A GOOD SCRUBBING--Several members of the Greenwood Fire Department spent Saturday learning procedures -- and the proper attire -- for dealing with hazardous materials. They are taking a 20-hour course taught by Barbara Shead and sponsored by Oxford County's Local Emergency Planning Committee. Their training will qualify them to work with Mead Corporation's Haz-Mat team, freeing up the team's technicians from some responsibilities, such as decontamination procedures, which the firefighters are practicing here. Al Curtis, Brian Penley, Jerry Kosterick and Fran Piccirillo all took a turn inside the protective suits.

At train crossings:

Look, listen, and live

Law Enforcement officials from Oxford County and as far south as South Portland learned more about the seriousness of train-motor vehicle collisions last week when the St. Lawrence & Atlantic Railroad sponsored a passenger train to Bethel.

While those who saw the train arrive in town last Wednesday might have thought the Sunday River ski train had returned, passengers aboard included police officers, sheriff's deputies, representatives from Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, and railroad officials among others.

Also on the train were representatives from Maine Operation Life-saver, a public education program dedicated to preventing incidents at railroad crossings and along railroad right of way.

"When a train and a vehicle collide at a crossing, the driver of the car or truck always loses," said Sergeant Chuck Downing of the Maine State Police, who led a 20-minute presentation to those on the train as it proceeded through the forested hills and along riverbanks of Oxford County. "We're talking about a 5,000 pound car being hit by a multi-million pound train traveling at up to 40 miles an hour. The impact is similar to a car driving over a can of soda."

Downing also enlightened his audience about what is often perceived by drivers as a slow-moving train, comparing it to a jet as it approaches an airport.

"That jet, because of its size, appears to be lazily floating in for a landing at a very slow speed when in fact it's traveling at 150 miles per hour," he said. "It's the same with a train. The size of the locomotive makes it appear it's hardly moving when the reality is that

Control is the issue at Andover hearing on SAD44 withdrawal

By ALISON ALOISIO

"We need a strong statement from Andover either way."

That was selectman Brian Mills' request at a public hearing Tuesday regarding whether the town should proceed with a formal SAD44 withdrawal study.

A referendum vote is scheduled June 9 to decide the question. Mills said he hopes for a big voter turnout. "That will make it easier to swallow, whether it's 'yes' or 'no,'" he said.

If the vote is 'yes', a withdrawal committee will be appointed to draw up an alternative educational plan for Andover students. A second referendum would then be scheduled to vote on actual withdrawal. A two-thirds majority would be needed for approval.

June's referendum question also asks for up to $10,000 to fund the study.

About 50 people turned out for Monday's hearing. Educational control -- or lack of it -- was a key concern.

Many parents had opposed a SAD44 budget plan to combine some grades into the same classroom at the Andover Elementary

'Do we want to take back control of the school? That's what it's all about.'

WAYNE DELANO

School next year. The town voted in opposition to the recent SAD44 budget, but the other district towns carried the vote in favor.

That was on former selectman Wayne Delano's mind. "Do we want to take back control of the school? That's what it's all about. We voted against the budget, but we're too small," he said.

Marshall Meisner agreed. Decisions about the school, he said, "would be made in Andover, not in Bethel," if the town withdrew.

But selectman Wendy Green worried the town would lose control over its older students, who would likely be tuitioned to an area middle or high school in the event of withdrawal. In that scenario, Andover would have no School Board representation.

"We would be at the mercy of two districts with the older kids," she said.

Both SAD44 and SAD43 might be options for tuitioning secondary students.

Darlene Hall, a former member of the SAD44 School Board, said parents concerned about next year's multi-age program at AES should put their energy into helping the teachers make the setup work.

Other parents said they were worried that if Andover stayed in SAD44, the district might eventually close AES -- and send the students on a 25-mile bus ride to the Crescent Park School in Bethel.

Andover school director Sid Pew said that would only happen if the per pupil cost became too high. The cheaper multi-age plan would help keep costs down, he said.

Kelly Scotti, Andover school director, said she was concerned

AIDING WILDLIFE--A group of Americorps volunteers helped out with a prescribed burn Saturday on the Androscoggin River's Kendall Island in West Bethel. The land is owned by the Mahoosuc Land Trust. The burn was designed to keep two areas open for wildlife (especially woodcock). The meadow lands had become increasingly overgrown with shrubs and small trees. Here, volunteers work to control the fire.

HAZ-MAT TRAINING

To the Editor:

Members of the West Paris Fire Department gathered two Tuesday nights and a Saturday for training in responding to Hazardous Materials (Haz-Mat) emergencies. Hosted by the West Paris Fire Department and sponsored by the Maine State Emergency Response Commission and the Oxford County Local Emergency Planning Committee, the goal of the 16-hour course was to familiarize emergency personnel with the various types of hazardous materials there are in their communities and various ways to respond to them. The need for this advanced level of training became obvious as events unfolded during the train derailment in town last October. Instruction was provided by Oxford County Emergency Management Agency's (EMA) Plans and Training Officer Barbara Sheard, Greenwood Fire Chief Ray Seames and Hebron firefighter Rich Hatch, all members of the LEPC. The nine emergency responders were trained, and one refreshed, in what is classified as the "Operations Level" of Haz-Mat response.

Besides learning about the types of materials they might be called to assist with, they were also trained in risk-assessment techniques, understanding basic Haz-Mat terminology, the proper use of resource guides in order to isolate an incident scene and deny entry to unessential responders and by-standers, how to select the appropriate personnel protective equipment needed for the chemicals at hand, basic control, containment and confinement techniques for minor spills, how to decontaminate personnel who are exposed, either as victims or as responders to assist with the incident, and standard operating and termination procedures. This will allow these responders the capability of mitigating a minor incident when equipment and personnel are available to them, or to assist organized Haz-Mat teams, such as the one at Mead paper mill in Rumford, to bring a larger incident to a successful conclusion. Mead has an agreement with Oxford County EMA to respond where called and needed to any Haz-Mat incident in Oxford County.

FIDDLEHEADS FRAUDS

To the Editor:

If Ms. Aloisio is eating the "fiddleheads" in her recent photo in your newspaper, I can understand why few of the "young and uneducated" do not think real fiddleheads a delicacy.

If those pictured are fiddleheads, I'll eat those and the entire issue of your newspaper.

Check with some of our old fiddlehead pickers -- and eaters. The real ones are great. I have 20 pounds frozen.

The skunk cabbage is real.

An "Old Fiddleheader," Waterford

(We thank Dr. Trinward for his letter. The only required eating is a healthy serving of crow, on the part of yours truly. The jury is apparently still out on the skunk cabbage, however. Another reader tells us it is really "Indian poke." --ABA)

TOWN NOT DOING SO WELL

To the Editor:

Hanover is not doing so well.

Mead Corp/Fulghum Fibres is in the process of building a chip mill in an approved residential subdivision in the Town of Hanover despite the laws and the protests of citizens. That's no real surprise -- a 1,000-pound gorilla plants his big, hairy foot wherever he wants to.

And Mead/Fulghum Fibres are receiving the green light to proceed because the Hanover Planning Board is not enforcing the accepted and approved long-range plan. When the Kong wants a few sacrifices, he gets them. The people who live in around Hanover have found they are expendable. And this is just beginning.

It is far more likely that Mead/Fulghum Fibres will keep on growing until it pushes out the last remaining resident of the village of Hanover.

TO LIVE IN A MILL YARD?

To the Editor:

Mead people, with the aid of our town officials, have started a rumor that if the mill is not built, the proposed site, a now existing expensive sub-division with covenants, will become a site of low-income housing. Cheap shot.

What they are neglecting to say is if the mill is built the whole village will become low-income housing.

I am not knocking low-income housing. We all have to live somewhere. There are probably a hundred good, clean, hardworking families in Rumford and Mexico who live very close to the mill. The point is when these families can afford it they buy or build their dream home in the country, preferably miles from the mill. In Hanover's case, with the blessings of our town officials, the worst part of the mill comes to us, and with it comes a reduction of property values (if you don't believe this try to sell your home. Nobody wants to live in a mill yard.) and eventually a deterioration of the whole village.

This has happened in many places all over the country, and will happen to Hanover.

R.E.A.C.H. ASKS FOR HELP

To the Editor:

Reports of sexual assault, especially of children, are on the rise. In 1997 R.E.A.C.H. received 112 initial reports of sexual assault, which included 36 reports of rape, 24 reports of child sexual abuse, and 51 reports of incest. When a child or adult is sexually abused they are affected for the rest of their lives. However, the availability of easily accessible support and information can greatly reduce their trauma. At R.E.A.C.H., the sexual assault support services center for Oxford County and western Maine, we are here to give those in need the support and information they are seeking, whenever they need it. All services are free of charge.

R.E.A.C.H. services include:

--A 24-hour crisis Hotline, staffed by trained volunteers and providing emotional support, information and referrals to victims, their families and concerned others. In 1997 we provided 784 hours of help to Hotline callers.

--Support groups led by trained facilitators for adult survivors (both men and women), adolescent survivors, mentally challenged adult survivors and parents of child victims. In 1997 we provided 495 hours of support group services.

--Sexual Assault Awareness and Risk Reduction educational presentations to area middle and high school students and Community Education programs. In 1997 we provided 160 hours of school and community education.

We at R.E.A.C.H. are dedicated to providing services to those in need. We want to keep working in the schools and community, educating children and adults, because we know education is an effective prevention program -- but we need your help. We are asking for your donation so that we may continue to serve the Oxford County and western Maine people, and to enable us to carry on our education programs in our schools and communities.

Briefly

Moose/car accident kills local woman

WEST PARIS--Althea Brown, 80, of Bethel was killed Saturday when the car in which she was riding collided with a moose on Route 26. Brown was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Stanley, also 80. The 1989 Ford Taurus was northbound about a mile north of Trap Corner when the moose ran across the road, striking the car on the driver's side. The animal was thrown onto the car roof by the impact, and the roof collapsed. Mrs. Brown received head injuries, and Mr. Brown an arm injury. Both were taken to Stephens Memorial Hospital by Tri-Town Rescue. The moose was killed.

Recycling to be relocated

BETHEL--The town's recycling center will be relocated next week to the town garage property off the Northwest Bethel Road. The center will be pushed off its current spot adjacent to Bethel's sewer treatment plant because improvements to the plant will expand it into the recycling area. Don Murphy, sewer project assistant, said roadside signs will direct recyclers into the new site, via the Gamm building entrance. The bins will be located in front of the garage and salt shed, he said.

Hearing on MDOT signs replacement

BETHEL--The Planning Board will hold a public hearing Wednesday, May 27 on a proposed change to the town's sign ordinance that calls for the elimination of all Maine Department of Transportation business-directional signs within town limits. The MDOT signs would be replaced by a system of "kiosk" multiple-business signs in strategic locations throughout the town. Those signs would be augmented by "international symbol" directional signs at the main entrances to town. The hearing will be held at 6 p.m. in the Town Office Meeting Room.

Dooen votes to spend money

BETHEL--Pat Dooen broke a tie vote of the Budget Committee Monday to recommend putting $185,000 into the town budget to finish the Mechanic Street Extension into Bethel Station. "I resent it thoroughly. I'll never live it down," said Dooen of her vote and the town's obligation to finish the street as part of a grant package associated with Bethel Station. "We're going to have a nice crossing that goes nowhere." She was referring to the fact that development at the station has stalled out. The extension was proposed as part of the original development plan to join Bethel Station to the Main Street area. Selectmen followed the Budget Committee vote with their own vote to approve the funds. They also approved a total of $287,029 in capital improvement funds for the upcoming year.

Trail workshop planned for Kendall Is.

BETHEL--A trail-building workshop is planned on National Trails Day, Saturday, June 6, by the Mahoosuc Land Trust and the Maine Conservation Corps, Americorps Program. It will take place from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Kendall Island, a Mahoosuc Land Trust Preserve located in the Androscoggin River in West Bethel. The workshop is open to the public, and participants can work with Americorps volunteers cutting a perimeter trail around the island. Members of the land trust will provide transportation to the island from Newt's Landing, a canoe access site located on the Ferry Road in West Bethel. Community Conference follow-up

BETHEL--About a dozen people turned out last week for a follow-up meeting on last fall's Community Conference, which drew 160 people to discuss possible projects to benefit the Bethel area community. Representatives from various committees formed as a result of the conference reported the following progress in different areas: Bethel's District Exchange, which sells secondhand clothing and other items, is open more frequently -- every Saturday instead of one Saturday a month; a Bethel riverfront recreation pathway now has the support of the town; a diversity and tolerance group organized an awareness day for middle school students; two groups are pursuing recreational options for various age-groups.

Floodplain hearing in Greenwood

GREENWOOD--A public hearing is scheduled June 2 at 6 p.m. to consider changes to the town's floodplain ordinance recommended by the Federal Emergency Management Agency. The hearing will precede another hearing scheduled for 7 p.m., regarding closing portions of the Patch Mountain Road to winter maintenance.

CPS plans May Fair

BETHEL--The fifth annual Crescent Park Elementary School May Fair will take place Saturday, May 30, from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. at the school in Bethel. The theme is "The Circus." Entertainment will include pony rides, a petting zoo, a pie-eating contest, speed pitching, buzz cuts, Moon Walks and other carnival games, a visit from Trickster Fox and classroom games and events. A Family Fun Auction will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. A used book sale and flea market will also take place. Proceeds will help bring performing arts programs to the school. The rain date is Sunday, May 31.

Search for Region 9 director begins

RUMFORD--A search is underway for a new vocational education director for Region 9. Four applications have been received for the position currently held by Dwayne Craig. Craig is leaving to become superintendent of School Union 93 July 1. Four applications have been received for the director's job, according to Region 9 board chairman Norm Clanton. Two are from Maine, with one each from Florida and Mississippi. On Tuesday the board established a screening and search committee for the hiring process. Directors hope to fill the position by July 1.

Safe holiday boating tips offered

ALEXANDRIA, Va.--Fifty people could die across the U.S. in Memorial Day weekend boating accidents, the Boat Owners Association of the United States estimates. BOAT/US. offers the following safety tips: use life jackets; don't overload a boat with people or equipment; check the weather forecast before going out; keep a lookout for other boats, swimmers or skiers, and objects in the water. A free on-line safety course is available from BOAT/US. on the Internet at <http://www.boat-us.com>.

Gas price update

PORTLAND--Memorial Day weekend motorists will find gas prices up for the first time in seven months, according to the American Automobile Association. Prices rose 1.9 cents this month after falling nearly 21 cents per gallon between October and April. The national average price for self-serve regular is now $1.098, 14.4 cents lower than one year ago. In New England the price is $1.095 per gallon, up .2 cents in one month and 17.1 cents less than last year.

Satellite goes out of control

LOS ANGELES, Calif.--A Galaxy 4 communications satellite spun out of control Tuesday, interrupting service to millions of pager users and disrupting behind-the-scenes television transmissions across the country. Technicians were working early Wednesday to restore its correct orbit. A spokesman for PageNet, one of several paging companies whose services were interrupted, estimated that 80 to 90 percent of the 40 to 45 million U.S. pager users lost service. Television stations also use Galaxy 4 to transmit feeds of advance shows. In addition, CBS radio and television, the Chinese Television Network and the CNN Airport Channel send feeds through the satellite. It was launched in June 1993.

Crossing

train is just seconds from reaching the grade crossing."

A special feature aboard the St. Lawrence & Atlantic passenger train was a constant live picture being sent from the video camera in the cab of the locomotive to a television screen in the passenger car. On several occasions during the run from Portland to Bethel, the TV screen showed vehicles darting across the tracks trying to beat the train.

"This picture gives these law enforcement people an actual look at what the railroad crew sees as we approach crossings," said Jeff Eichel, a locomotive engineer with the Auburn-based railroad which operates several trains daily through Bethel and dozens of other towns between Portland and Island Pond, Vt. Eichel, who lives in West Paris, was one of those aboard the train and is also a volunteer with Maine Operation Lifesaver.

Thanks in part to Operation Lifesaver, which is active in 49 states, crashes at highway-rail grade crossings have been cut by 42 percent over the last decade -- this in spite of the fact that highway and rail traffic have both increased 20 percent with an additional 20 million licensed drivers on the roads.

Unfortunately, trespassing incidents, including those who cross-country ski, hike, ride snowmobiles, dirt bikes and all-terrain vehicles on the tracks have sharply increased recently in Maine and across the country.

"People should realize that doing these things on the tracks are acts of trespassing," said Emmons Lancaster, state coordinator for Maine Operation Lifesaver. "Railroad tracks are private property."

Those locally aboard last week's passenger train included Darrell Tripp of the Oxford County Sheriff's Office, Raymond Parr and David Verrier of the Parr Police and Michael Clark of the Oxford Police.

Maine Operation Lifesaver, which is financed by the St. Lawrence & Atlantic as well as Maine's other railroads, regularly makes free presentations to driver education students, professional drivers and school children among others and staff displays at community events. From the Bethel Police log:

Moose loses encounter with 18-wheeler

At 11:11 p.m. on May 14 police received a report that a tractor trailer had struck a moose on Route 2. On arrival, the driver showed the officer where he had struck the animal with his trailer. There were no visible signs of damage to the trailer. The moose was dispatched by the officer, because of its extreme injuries.

Wednesday, May 13

At 8:18 a.m. police observed a vehicle traveling north on Route 26 at a high rate of speed. Radar confirmed the speed at 73 miles per hour in a 50 m.p.h. zone. The vehicle was stopped. The driver appeared to be intoxicated, and was given three field sobriety tests, which he failed. Larry A. Withey, 38, was arrested for OUI and summonsed for the same and for speeding.

Friday, May 15

At 2:45 p.m. a caller reported two subjects fighting on Spring Street. On arrival, the officer learned they had gone into a residence. He contacted them and warned both of them about fighting in public.

Monday, May 18

At 10:10 a.m. the Oxford County Sheriff's Department asked police to be on the lookout for an erratically-operating vehicle northbound on Route 26. The officer watched for the vehicle but made no contact.

At 11:12 a.m. police were contacted by a resident regarding a car/moose accident that had taken place on a previous night. The complainant reported about $1,200 in damage to his car's grill and hood.

Andover

about costs to the town for special-education students in the event of withdrawal. Andover currently has 16 students receiving some form of service from special education, she said.

Dale Doughty, an educational consultant hired two years ago by the town to do a cost analysis of a stand-alone Andover school system, also said if a student needed residential care, it could cost the town between $40,000 and $45,000.

Regarding another area of finances, Doughty said the town would have to negotiate for assets it holds in the district from its 30-year membership in SAD44.

AES would go with the town in a withdrawal, but the town might also be entitled to buses and other assets associated with the Telstar complex, for instance. Conversely, Andover would have to negotiate debt service it is obligated to pay for the Crescent Park Elementary School.

Delano urged voters to approve the withdrawal study, so townspeople can settle the issue with sufficient information to make a good decision.

"I'd like to put it to rest one, way or the other," he said.

Comp. plan

cluded in the draft as "a wish list of department heads."

The Comprehensive Plan does not have the force of law, and its suggestions are only that -- but, Chadbourne worried, "if it's voted on by the people it almost becomes gospel."

He suggested some language be added to the draft indicating the proposed expenditures were subject to available funding.

Bohr indicated the committee would consider adding such language. "A 10-year plan can't be precise," he conceded.

And Planning Board Chairman Frank Vogt said the draft was not intended to be overly prescriptive. "It's not a set of rules -- it's a guide. The plan will grow and stay flexible. It won't become inflexible when it's voted."

Feeney also worried that the draft went too far in laying out details that were better left to future discussion -- especially details regarding land use.

As a former member of both the Planning Board and Comprehensive Plan Committee, he said, he believes: "The town needs a comprehensive plan and it needs to be current -- but I think we should be cautious in the next 10-year plan regarding specifics."

He noted that the "Future Land Use Plan" section of the draft specifies 10 different types of development areas -- compared to the two types required by the state.

And in some cases the draft gets down to the level of specifying details such as frontage requirements for construction in the different areas.

"Take that out right now," he urged. "It's too specific for this type of plan."

While Feeney and Chadbourne were suggesting exercising some detail from the draft, one other member of the audience suggested that some language needed to be added.

Bob Saunders pointed out that the draft made no mention of light pollution.

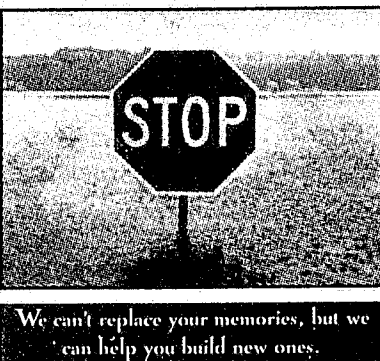

As businesses try to attract evening customers by appearing ever bigger and brighter than their competitors, Saunders said: "You end with a horsepower race -- and you don't have to go far in that direction until none of us in town will be able to see the stars. That's a value to our community, and it's very difficult to retrieve once it's lost."

Airport

ment of Transportation has tentatively approved $150,000 in funding for the project. It would have to be matched with an equal amount.

The other portion, Tarr said, might come from a "donation." "It is my belief a source will come forward with $150,000," he told the selectmen.

"There is a person interested in using the airport to a greater extent," Tarr said. ASC, he said, has a "high level of interest" in a runway extension.

In a January memo to selectmen, Tarr wrote, "Discussions of lengthening the runway to accommodate jet aircraft are in preliminary stages. It appears that ASC is prepared to make a sizable investment in the airport, which should benefit all who use the facility."

And, according to Tarr, Federal Express has also shown interest in possibly locating a regional distribution center here.

As in the case of the FAA grant, there has been no written confirmation of the MDOT grant money, Tarr said. "It's from good sources -- but we need to consider it is verbal," he said.

Town, FAA and MDOT officials are scheduled to meet June 4 to discuss the runway project further.

Asked Wednesday about involvement by ASC in the grants issue, spokesman Skip King said: "As a service to the Airport Authority, ASC contacted MDOT asking if we could provide aid in securing state or federal funds." Then, late last week, ASC learned MDOT had contacted Tarr about the grants, King said.

Regarding the matching grant, King said ASC has not received any formal requests for matching funds. "Whether we would offer them, I have no idea," he said.

ASC has provided $10,000 to do preliminary engineering work, according to King.

The larger grant, to become available in October of this year, would carry a 90/10 split, with 90 percent federal funds and 10 percent to be split between the state of Maine and the Airport Authority, according to Tarr. The state, he said, might also find a way to increase its portion.

In-kind contributions of town staff time put toward the project might be countable for the authority's portion, he said.

Asked if that meant there would be no cost to the town, Tarr said: "I'm not going to say there's no cost to the town. The intent is that there will be no cost. But I've heard that before."

Chadbourne raised grant issue

The subject of the grants came up Monday when selectman Bob Chadbourne, who said he had heard a rumor about the funds, asked Tarr about them at the regular selectmen's meeting.

Chadbourne said he was not happy that selectmen hadn't been informed earlier of the grants. He brought up the grant issue twice during Monday's meeting.

Plans had been in the works for the Airport Authority to meet with selectmen, said Tarr. Specific information regarding the grants had just become available within the past week, he said.

Tarr said he got word of the grants from the Dufresne-Henry Inc., the engineering firm working on the airport master plan. The master plan includes provisions for extending the runway.

The selectmen chairman, Dutch Dresser, did not attend Monday's meeting. He said Wednesday he learned about the grant from Tarr

The airport grants 'came about much quicker than we expected. We thought they might come four or five years out.'

ARLAN JODREY, Chairman Bethel Airport Authority

late last week. That conversation, he said, was the first he heard of it.

Future steps

Regarding the remainder of the procedure for obtaining the funds, Tarr said the selectmen would have to vote to accept any grant money for the airport.

The Department of Environmental Protection would also have to approve the project, with public hearings required, Tarr said.

A Town Meeting vote would not be required unless the Airport Authority were to incur indebtedness in excess of $15,000 for capital improvements.

At this point, said Jodrey, he would not look for any funding from the town. "It's been made clear to everyone that the average taxpayer won't support putting money into the airport," he said.

Jodrey said the grants "came about much quicker than we anticipated. We thought they might come four or five years out. To come up with this kind of funding was a complete surprise."

Nighttime upgrades later

The current grant proposal would cover only daytime airport operation, according to Jodrey. FAA-approved nighttime lighting -- including hazard lights on top of area mountains -- would probably come through FAA funding in a subsequent fiscal year.

Once the FAA starts a project, he said, the agency generally sees it through to completion.

Currently, ASC has its own lighting system at the airport, so that a plane used by Otter may land at night. ASC has indemnified the town against any liability associated with the non-FAA-standard lights.

If the extension were built, said Jodrey, ASC would probably pay to extend the current runway lighting, continuing the temporary arrangement for use by its plane.

The extension, said Jodrey, should bring business to the area. "People need to know there are other businesses interested in being established out there," he said.

The Rev. Mowery's message on Mother's Day was "Mothers, Molders of Lives." It was very nicely given. Three hymns and six choruses were sung, led by Shane Clark. Judy Webster played the piano, Peggy Mowery played the piano, Peggy Mowery played the piano, Peggy Mowery played the piano.

Pastor Rick the guitar. It was just grand, so many lifting their voices loud in praise of our Savior. My favorite for the day was, "How Great Thou Art." We sing that one often. Tracy Gibbs did a fine job playing the piano for a special song.

If you do not have a church, you are welcome to come to Bethel Alliance. You will always find the welcome mat out there.

Congratulations to Sylvanus and Harriet Glover of East Andover on the arrival of a new grandson. Calvin Russell Glover, son of Jason and Belinda (Corriveau) Glover, was born May 11 in Berlin, N.H., weighing 6 pounds, 13 ounces. Calvin joins sister Brianna, 6.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swain have returned from Massachusetts where they visited his sister in Wayland, and friends in Dedham and Braintree.

South Woodstock

by Andrea Wing
Phelps and Joan Poland have returned home after visiting with Phelps's sister, Dottie Critser, who lives in Tempe, Ariz. They had a good time and took in some sights while they were there.
John and Diana (Poland) Dunn and son Brandon are now home from John's tour in the service in England. John is now out of the Air Force and they are staying with Diana's parents, Todd and Lynda Poland, while they make future plans.

Many of our family attended the burial services for Vernon Poland last Friday at 4 p.m. at the South Woodstock Cemetery. Evelyn and James Dunn came from Campton, N.H., as they were unable to make the funeral earlier this year. Lloyd Waterhouse did the service, and a poem by Tracy Grover, in memory of her father, was read. Another poem was read by Tammy Davis, in memory of her grandfather. They were both very good and touching.

Amy Merrill Bru received her baby shower package from her shower recently. She was very surprised and pleased with the gifts. Amy lives in Mobile, Ala., with her husband, Dan.
Debbie Poland has been laid up with a bad back for a while and has been out of work. Hopefully she'll be better soon.

Carol Corriveau and I traveled to Gallants' furniture store in Roxbury one day last week. We had a nice time visiting and saw a big moose in the road. I've heard they are very plentiful this year.

Congratulations to my grandson, Doug Wing, on making the honor roll at Oxford Hills Comprehensive High School. Doug will graduate this year and will be attending Springfield College in the fall. Also making the honor roll at OHCHS is Jamie Monzo. Tara Monzo and Erica Monzo made the honor roll at Oxford Elementary school.

I had a chance to visit with Pearl Jordan in a Rumford store this week. We visited for a while; we always seem to meet in stores or restaurants.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society, reports that at the meeting in May the film "Maine's Golden School Days" was shown. It was given to the society, thanks to a grant from Stephen King donating copies to societies throughout the state. Curator Billings read some Robert Frost poems. Olive Risko gave a research report and also donated a video on World War II. Maurice Lescault did work on the steps at the entrance to the museum building. Much thanks. Ruby Emery's book is now available. The Board of Trustees arranged for the printing. The museum is open Saturday afternoons this summer.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that gossip goes in one ear and out many mouths."

Bryant Pond

Last week I put in the paper that the Alumni Banquet was June 6. This is a correction: The Woodstock Alumni Banquet is June 13. Guess I was asleep when I wrote that.

The Alumni Banquet on June 13th will be held at the Locke Mills American Legion Hall at 6 p.m. Special guests will be the classes of 1928, 1938, 1948, and Telstar seniors from Woodstock and Greenwood.

Sorry about this.

The Newry Mothers club met Monday night, May 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Building, with Laura Lowell presiding. An opening prayer was read, and Secretary-Treasurer Patti Lowell gave the roll call, read notes of the last meeting, brought the finances up to date, reported on sending cards to the shut-ins, and gave a report on the Mother-Daughter banquet, and scholarship gifts to the graduates. The mystery prize was won by Sylvia Wight, and a birthday greeting was given for Joan Bartlett. It was voted to meet at the Town and Country Inn for a dinner on June 6, at 6:30 p.m. Bring a friend if you wish. There was discussion on a possible yard sale sometime this summer, and a Halloween party in the fall. More on this later. Goodies were served by Nancy Wight and Brenda Bartholomew. Next meeting will be Sept. 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the same place.

"Eat the Weeds" the weeds that are good to eat are coming up all over the grounds, dandelions, clover, fiddleheads. Do you like fiddleheads? (Ostrich Ferns) (Osmunda-Struthiopteris). Remove the brown scales by wiping them off with a damp cloth, chill in the "fridge" for a few hours to remove the woody odor, steep in some wine plus seasoning with herbs for half hour before cooking, just steam a little while, about five minutes or more, it is a good substance for string beans or asparagus. Bonn appetit.

Ras Bachelder was at the Maine Medical Center in Portland last Wednesday, May 13, for a minor operation. He is now home recuperating and doing just fine. We hope his health will be better from now on. "Life is sweet, but health is sweeter."

So Frank Sinatra passed away last Friday. Well I remember when; When he was 17 (a very good year) around 1932, he was making public appearances to build-up his career. So was Dinah Shore. They were booked for a week at the Loewe Theater in Providence, R.I., at the same time as my husband Edmund Seely of the "Hill Billy Band." Of course they were not famous then. I had a free pass, so I was there every night to see them. Do any oldies in Rhode Island remember that?

This morning, May 12, I was awakened by the rapid nasal "up-up-up-up" of the nuthatch and the brazen trumpeting of the blue jay. The rain of several days was over and the sun was up, so I did up too.

The wind was playing with the pond water and the sunlight began to bloom through ranks of heavy early morning clouds, lighting up a big flock of ducks that circled around on the silvery surface. I could also see intricate alliances of crystal light in the needles of the evergreens on the hillside. What a beautiful morning.

The wind wasn't new, always the same, it seemed -- but was it? Coming out of mountain caves and going back, eternal, conspicuously and yet so quiet was the water.

The light has lengthened since the season has moved into May. This month evokes apple blossoms. Trees explode into beauty. I feel the maples singing, for birds shake the leaves with music.

This is the season of staggering numbers of intense growth of life in everything.

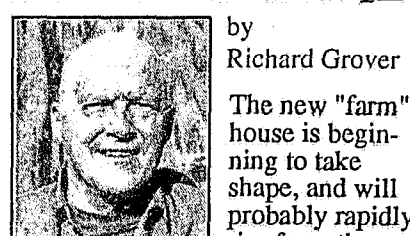

Everyone likes it. Let it come! The families in town observed Mother's Day in several ways; dinner, rides and gifts. I went with the Holts to David's home in Norway. There, Robert and daughter joined us, also Sally's mother, so we were all together. We had planned a cookout, but the rains came. We had a good time and a nice day together.

Heather Inman, a Telstar High

School Junior, was recently installed in the office of State Parliamentarian for the Future Business Leaders of America. She is one of seven students who represent the State of Maine at the spring convention at Sugarloaf.

Heather also received third-place award for the Accounting II test and received a $500 scholarship to Johnson and Wales University for this achievement. She is the daughter of Geoffrey and Heidi Inman and granddaughter of Milton and Eleanor Inman.

The new "farm" house is beginning to take shape, and will probably rapidly rise from the new concrete basement walls in the next few days. I see that there is a stack of building materials on the front lawn already.

Ready for another Mother Goose story? Last Monday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Goose took their four babies and left the nest, leaving one unhatched egg behind. Later, Mona went into the goose pen to get the water dish, and she heard the abandoned egg "peeping." Looking down, she saw the egg, with one tiny hole and a tiny gosling inside peeping and getting cold. She then phoned the shop and asked me what she should do. I told her to get the forceps and assist with the birth, since it appeared to be a "breach baby"; next she should put the little one in a box with an electric light for heat to dry him out and warm him up. These things she did, but there was another complication. Once the little goose dried out, he was unable to stand, and he lay on his belly with his feet straight out on either side, sort of "spread goosed." Well, you wouldn't say a goose was "spread eagled," would you? It took two days for the little fella to get his "wheels" under him, but by then, his parents had disowned him, both pecking at him and keeping him away from the other little ones. Then Mona became a surrogate Mom as well as nurse midwife, with the little cuss following wherever she went if she let him out of the box. Finally, tragedy struck the new baby on Sunday morning when I forgot he was right underfoot, and accidentally stepped on him, breaking his little neck, when I was feeding our new calf.

In another vein, I have a couple additions to my unofficial birdwatcher's notebook. The other day, Eeyore told me at the shop that he saw two new ones: a dirtpecker and a white blackbird. The dirtpecker, he said, was black and white and about the size of a bluejay; when Eeyore saw him, the bird appeared to be pecking at a small mound of dirt. On closer inspection, the mound was an anthill. The white blackbird was on the ground with a flock of blackbirds picking up spillings from the feeder. The white bird looked like all the others, except for the white coloration. It did not appear to be an albino because the eyes appeared to be dark instead of the pink one would expect of an albino.

Eeyore also had a rather unusual experience one morning last week. He often rides a motorcycle to work when weather permits. One day he had a letter to mail, and with no other convenient place to carry it on the motorcycle, he put the edge of the envelope in his mouth until he got to the post office. Once there, he went to mail the letter, when he found it stuck to his lower lip! As he peeled the envelope off the lip, a bit of skin adhered as it does if you put your tongue on a piece of metal in freezing weather. By the time he got to work his lip was sore and starting to swell. Oh, the joys of "biking"!

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte
The weather has been spectacular, but its downside is the arrival of a vicious horde of black flies. The Upton walkers are now the Upton runners. All dooryard conversation has ceased till the little black monsters are gone.

Steven Lavalley placed third in the triple jump and fifth in the long jump for Telstar in a five-team meet at Madison. Congratulations, Steven. He was a very good athlete while attending Errol Grammar School, according to his P.E. teacher, Sue Nelson.

Scott and Sam Grondin are avid fishermen and have had some good catches this year.

Mary Quinn is visiting her mother, Merna Monroe, for a few weeks. Mary lives on the big island in Hawaii. She is an administrator for a Home Health Agency.

The Hibbards from North Yarmouth are preparing to build a camp on Route 26.

The daffodils have faded, but Elsie Fuller still has a bright display of red and yellow tulips.

A merlin hawk smashed into the window of Bob and Donna Folsom's new house.

Vi Bernier, Margaret Mitchell and Simone Lavalley have been busy preparing the Ladies Aid Building for this year's business.

Louie Sargent is back painting the Town Buildings. The Upton Union Church will also be painted. This was made possible with funds donated to "Friends of the Upton Church."

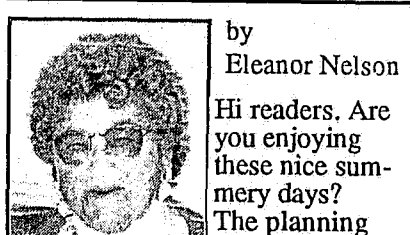

Caroline Taylor returned to her house to find that a bear had battered in a screen.

The "Vet" was in town tending to Marty Edwards' horses. He made a house call to the Gagnon farm to care for some of the animals. Hobo, the dog that has been spending his time between the Gagnon's and Pete McCulloch's house, was tested for heartworm and given a rabies shot.

There is a very beautiful flowering crabapple tree in the field of the winter Lake House across the street. This tree was planted by Maurice and Becky Kendall many years ago.

We have several oriole feeders on the property, but no orioles yet. There are seven Canada geese and many bachelor mallards down on the beach. I saw my first baby ducks on the way to Berlin last week.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson
Hi readers. Are you enjoying these nice summer days? The planning board met at the Town Office Wednesday evening, May 6, and discussed several permits.

Thursday evening, May 7, the Oxford County United Parish (North Waterford and East Stoneham churches) put on a nice (Mother-Daughter) Family Banquet with much success. There was a good turnout of people and the supper was good and the entertainment was great. I just love the music of the Richard Felt Band anyway. They all seem to like what they're doing and they do it well. This banquet is a yearly thing and is to benefit local kids to go to the summer camp for a couple of weeks. This is a good experience for them.

Albert Nelson Jr. & Sons and Albert Sr. are busy this time of year in their cemetery business.

Eric Nelson was home from college in New York last weekend and worked for his father.

It seems as if the mosquitoes are extra plentiful this year.

Shirley Grant from Mechanic Falls spent last weekend with Frances Grant.

The Pythian Sisters held a school of instruction at the K. of P. Hall here recently. Grand officers of Maine filled all chairs. Mary Crandall was sitting past chief protem; Dorothy Cannell was grand chief; Arlene Merrill as grand senior; Beverly Kilton as grand junior; Marjorie Messenger as grand manager; Harriet Haines as grand secretary; Virginia Elwell as grand treasurer; Lois Barker as grand protector; and Ruth Davis as grand guard.

A nice luncheon was served after the meeting by Minnehaha Temple Pythian Sisters.

The dandelions have been plentiful and good this year. The lilacs are in full bloom. We usually wonder if they will bloom for Memorial, but this year they will probably be gone by then.

Men's Varsity Lacrosse

Gould 10, Hebron 8; May 13—With the score tied at the end of three quarters, Matt Powers' defensive steal set up Orlin Watson for a well-placed shot and the go-ahead goal. As the clock ticked down, Anthony Colby stepped up with his third goal of the day and put the game out of reach. Drew Drummond also notched three goals in the game and added an assist. Orlin Watson had one goal and three assists; Dustin Rice contributed one goal and one assist. Corey Felton and Noah Siebeck-Smith each had a goal. Gould's MAISAD record is 4-2, giving them second place seeding in the post-season tournament scheduled for this Friday and Saturday.

Men's J.V. Lacrosse

MAISAD Tournament; May 16—Gould won the Maine Independent School League Junior Varsity Lacrosse Championship, defeating Kents Hill 5-4 in the final game. The win came on an overtime goal by Angus Graham, who had a total of seven goals in the four-game tournament. Gould defeated Hyde School, 4-3, in the first game, then lost to Kents Hill, 8-2. In the third game, an 8-4 win over Hebron sent a tired but elated Gould team into the fourth and final game, where they held on to emerge as champions. Gould took advantage of solid defense by the entire team and excellent goal-tending by Aaron Miles, as well as impressive offensive efforts led by Graham, Tristan Fischer (4 goals, 5 assists), Matt Macko (2 goals), and Thomas Parsons (2 goals).

Women's Varsity Lacrosse

Gould 15, Back Bay 14; May 16—Gould defeated the Back Bay Lacrosse Club from Portland in a hard-fought contest that was ultimately decided in the last minutes of play. Gould led 9-6 at half time, but Back Bay came back in the second half to take the lead. With a minute and a half remaining in the game, Megan Flaherty tied the score with her seventh goal of the day, quickly followed by Molly Gray's game-winning goal. Anna Warner had four goals and two assists in the game, Jackie Scully scored two goals and had one assist, and Caroline Riss scored one goal. Betsey Kuzyk had 18 saves in goal.

Gould 17, N.Y.A. 10; May 14—Gould's Caroline Riss led the scoring with five goals, Anna Warner had four goals and two assists, and Megan Flaherty and Molly Gray each scored three times. Katie Davison had two goals and an assist, and Amanda Barrett picked up an assist. Quick passing and movement down the field made it hard for the North Yarmouth Academy team to keep up.

Gould 8, Hebron 5; May 13—Megan Flaherty led Gould's offense with three goals, Jackie Scully scored twice, and Caroline Riss had one goal and an assist. Anna Warner and Katie Davison scored Gould's remaining goals, and Adrien Smith had an assist. Betsey Kuzyk had 10 saves in goal to hold off the tough Hebron offense.

JASON A. MULLEN is Salutatorian of the Class of 1998. Jason is the son of Cynthia and James Mullen of Greenwood. Jason is a very quiet leader and has enhanced the climate of Telstar through his activity in Student Council for three years, holding office of treasurer and co-president, each for one-year terms, and membership in National Honor Society for two years, being elected treasurer in his senior year. He has been a four-year member of the basketball team (senior captain) and soccer team (senior co-captain), earning nomination to the State All-Star teams in both sports.

Jason's academic honors include excellence certificates in Spanish, English, mathematics, history and health studies. He was named as recipient of the 1998 Principal's Award, earned status as a Maine Scholar and was nominated as 1997 Wendy's High School Heisman candidate. Jason spends his free time in the outdoors, involving himself in various sporting activities, mountain biking, canoeing and fishing.

Jason will attend the University of Maine at Orono, majoring in marine science.

Achieving the third highest rank in the class is MARTHA HELEN GROVER, daughter of Daniel and Nancy Grover of Mason Township. Martha has tirelessly involved herself in her school as well as her community through Peer Helpers, Self Esteem Group, Drama Club, Freshmen Awareness Committee, Graduation and Chance for Change Committees. She has been elected to the offices of National Honor Society president, class co-president in her sophomore and junior years, as well as Freshmen class secretary. In athletics, Martha has participated in track and field events and cross-country running.

Martha is a familiar face in the surrounding towns, accepting the duties of American Legion Junior Auxiliary Post president as well as State American Legion president in addition to teaching Sunday School at the West Bethel Union Church. Culturally, she has traveled to France as an exchange student. Her family has hosted students from France and Japan.

Scholastically, Martha has received achievement awards in English, science, math, French, history and health. She also received the Bethel Historical Society Essay Award, Bausch and Lomb Science Award, Tandy Scholars Award, NASSP Principal's Leadership Award and MEA Distinguished Writing Award. Martha also likes to travel, paint, draw, read and write. She will attend either Bennington College or Swarthmore College as an Architectural/Civil Engineering Major.

KATE RILEY NICKERSON, daughter of George and Danna Nickerson of Bethel, is fourth in the Class of 1998.

Organizationally, she has filled the positions of National Honor Society secretary (grade 12), class secretary (grades 10 and 11), and class treasurer (grade 12). Also, she has been involved in Freshmen Awareness Committee, Peer Helpers, Peer Tutors, Graduation and Prom Committees and "Reflections" literary magazine.

Kate has given time to her community in the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program, March of Dimes fundraising and memberships in the Bethel Bicentennial Committee and Bethel Historical Society. She was a Dirigo Girls State Delegate and attended the Haystack Writers Symposium.

In academics, she has received awards in English, history, French, anatomy and physiology, accounting and business. She has attained honor roll status throughout her high school years, and, dramatically, has been recognized by the Blue Carpet Acting Award. Kate spends out-of-school time drawing, acting, walking and enjoys photography and fashion. Office Administration is Kate's career choice, and she will attend Central Maine Technical College in Auburn, Maine.

Occupying the fifth spot in the graduating class is JAYSON MICHAEL HEBERT, son of Tony and Ruth Hebert of Bethel. Jayson has been honored through nomination to National Honor Society and delegation to Dirigo Boys State. Academically, he has received awards in English, mathematics, Spanish, history and industrial arts. His ability to follow through with obligations is demonstrated by his many school attendance honors in his years at Telstar.

Athletically, Jayson has been a three-year member of the Telstar nordic ski team. He was the recipient of the Clarence Remington Ski Award in his sophomore and junior years.

His other activities include achieving Eagle Scout in the Boys Scouts of America, along with employment at Olson Tent Rental, Bob's Corner Store and the Great Grizzly restaurant.

Free time finds him camping, hunting, snow-mobiling and skiing. Jayson will study electrical engineering at Western New England College.

MONICA LYNN SMITH has earned the sixth place standing in her class. She is the daughter of Mary Smith of Mexico and Donald Smith of East Andover. Monica's school activities have included Student Council, Self Esteem Group and Yearbook Staff. She was a member of the varsity and junior varsity basketball teams and was recipient of the Dedication and Hustle Award.

Monica has accepted various scholastic awards secondary to her accomplishments at Telstar, including Outstanding Achievement in English and Excellence Awards in Spanish and Chemistry. She was also granted the "Anthropologist's Award" in Humanities studies. Monica has participated, as a donor, in Red Cross blood drives and has also served as a waitress at local church suppers. She enjoys hiking, biking and camping activities when time allows. Monica will attend New England College in Henniker, New Hampshire.

In the seventh senior class rank position is MEGAN KATHLEEN COLE, daughter of Elton and Christine Cole of Bryant Pond. School memberships include Student Council (senior co-president), Peer Helpers, Prom Committee, Graduation Committee, and Freshmen Awareness Committee. As a sophomore, Megan was elected class treasurer, and, during her senior year, she participated in the autumn school drama production. Megan has donated her time in the community with the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program over the last three years, as well as volunteering at a local nursing home/living center. She has also helped out the Oxford Hills Music and Performing Arts Association with their productions.

Megan's awards include high academic achievement in history, science, English, French, business and health studies. She has been recognized for notable improvement in mathematics. An ever-present member of the honor roll, she has been named as Student of the Month, on multiple occasions, by the Telstar faculty. As a result of her success in the MEA testing, she was presented a Certificate of Achievement. Quinnipiac College in Hamden, Connecticut, is Megan's destination in the fall of 1998, where she will begin her quest as an English major.

MATTHEW WAITO KOSKELA, son of Kenneth and Theresa Koskela of Woodstock, has earned the status of the eighth position. Matthew has been notably involved in athletics at Telstar Regional High School as a member of the alpine ski team as well as the junior varsity and varsity baseball teams. He received the Hustle Award in skiing in repeat years.

He was also initiated into the National Honor Society in 1998, and chosen as a representative to Dirigo Boys State in his junior year.

He has also received academic certifications in several subject areas as well as inclusion on the honor roll during his high school years.

Matthew has attained the level of Eagle Scout in the Boy Scouts of America. This high honor has required great amounts of charitable time and activities, the latest being a community service project of setting cement pads under the dugouts for the Woodstock Little League baseball team. Matthew will study marine engineering at Maine Maritime Academy, on a Navy ROTC scholarship.

Positioned as number nine is MELINDA SUE HALE. Parents are David and Arlynn Hale of West Bethel. Melinda's unassuming nature belies her undeniable capability to succeed; in combination with her high level of dedication and commitment. She was named Student of the Month during her senior year. She has been a member of the high honor roll and honor roll at various times in her years at Telstar.

Melinda has been an eager and motivated volunteer in the local medical community. She volunteered for several months at a local nursing/boarding home. Additionally, she has logged many hours at various blood pressure clinics sponsored in the surrounding areas. Free time may find Melinda involved with writing, poetry, reading and crafts. She will pursue a nursing career with a specialty in Obstetrics.

Rounding out the top ten seniors at Telstar Regional High School is JESSICA LOUISE DURGIN, daughter of Larry and Tara Durgin of Greenwood and Donna and David Smith of Andover. Her extracurricular participation includes Peer Helpers and Graduation Committee. She was also a member of the basketball team for two seasons and received the Most Improved Player Award.

On a community note, Jessica has worked as a member of the Andover Educational Fund committee and Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Oxford County. She has also made herself available as a blood donor to the Red Cross. She was named as an alternate to Dirigo Girls State in her junior year.

Academically, Jessica has received achievement awards in business, history and life skills classes. She has been an honor roll member on many occasions, as well as attaining the status of outstanding achievement in MEA testing.

Her hobbies are photography, reading and spending time with her family. Jessica plans to enter Thomas College in Waterville, Maine, in Business Administration.

After spending the winter weather months in a new place in Florida, John Kallis has returned to his summer home here. Mrs. Elmira Doyen remains a patient at the C.M.M.C hospital in Lewiston after suffering a fall at her home here.

I spent part of last weekend at the Cape in Otisfield. With Ethel and Craig I attended the Hillsmen Chorus program at a Norway Church. I returned home Sunday afternoon with Norma and David, who had spent the day in Old Orchard Beach with Brandon and Tara and little son Kyle.

Mrs. Dottie Adams of Hanover visited here Sunday afternoon. Remember the yard and bake sale at the Albany Town Hall next weekend.

The secret of success is to start from scratch, and keep on scratching.

Sunday River Valley

by Rockie Graham

This has been a very busy week. My CMTC classes are out. The portfolios are graded, the grades are in and summer classes start the 18th. Adult Ed in Auburn winds down this week, also. I'll have my life back, sort of.

Nancy Babcock reports that the Newry Recreation Committee is offering $50 camperships to Newry residents. Write and let me know how old you are, where you want to go to camp and why. This is due in to Nancy by June 5. Send letters to her at RFD 3, Box 2183, Bethel, ME 04217.

The Recreation Committee will hold a contra dance at the Newry Grange Hall on Friday, June 5. There will be a potluck supper at 5:30 p.m. and a dance from 7 to 10 p.m. The B & J Band will be playing. They are derived from last year's favorite, Scrod Pudding. This event is free and everyone is welcome. In the past we have had all ages dancing and the potlucks have been delicious.

This weekend several things happened. There was a potluck supper about whether people in the Bethel area were interested in revitalizing the Bethel Outing Club or some similar enterprise. The supper, at the Sunday River Inn, was well attended and several options were discussed. A number of people were interested in hiking this summer, and Lynn Zimmerman volunteered to lead a wildflower trip up Mt. Washington on June 13. If interested, please call Lynn at 824-3763 and leave a message. The group also decided to meet again on June 14 at the new dining hall at Gould. It will be a potluck supper from 5 to 7 p.m. It will be to discuss with the old Bethel Outing Club if they want us to revitalize it or if we start over as the Forest Fairies or some other group. Actually, we are told that is the name applied to Nordic skiers at Oxford Hills. It works for me.

Bethel Area Poets Society is meeting this week on Friday at the Bethel Library from 6 to 8 p.m. Our usual meeting place, Cafe DiCocoa, is undergoing renovations. Added to that, I am teaching Thursday nights until mid-July and that accounts for our change in time and place. It is really great fun.

It feels like it may be ok to get those gardens in, even here in the valley. Mine is rototilled, so I plan to attack it this week, at least for frost-hardy vegetables. I am still not convinced that we won't get another frost, having had hard frosts last week, so I will refrain from planting anything delicate.

Have a great week. Get some outdoor time, be it walking, hiking, working in the garden, or just hanging around. This warm (not hot) weather is too nice to let it go by.

THINK ABOUT OUR FUTURE ENVIRONMENT
RECYCLE NOW

High Street

West Paris by Russell Yates

Howdy friends, the weatherman says unlimited sunshine for today, Monday, and how nice it sounded to hear him say that, after all of the rain that we had.

Peggy was downtown last Monday morning to take care of errands that she needed to do, but I stayed home and did various jobs around here.

Friday evening we attended the Woodstock High School Alumni meeting at Alice Hoyt's home in Bryant Pond. This was our meeting to prepare the invitations to the Alumni Banquet, which will be held at the Locke Mills Legion Hall on June 13. More alumni members showed up at this meeting than we had expected, so getting the invitations ready wasn't a bad job at all, as everyone helped. When we were returning home after the meeting, we were stopped by a police officer on Route 26. He stopped us because he thought something must be wrong as Peggy was only driving 39 miles per hour in a 50 miles-per-hour zone. Peggy's daughter Myrna and husband Whitey, were up from Auburn today, and Whitey hauled our old pink refrigerator to the dump area for us. It had lasted for 37 years and we had hoped that it would last another 30 years.

Sister Peggy and Doc Merrill attended the dance at the Locke Mills Town Hall Saturday evening. They had a good time, but came home early as both were tired.

Sunday we joined Myrna and Bernard White of Auburn and then traveled in the rain to the home of Lorna Saremi in Augusta. Lorna is Peggy's granddaughter, and we had all been invited there for Mother's Day. We enjoyed a very nice dinner and visit, as we don't get to see Lorna and children very often.

Mary Lovejoy attended the Memorial and Burial Service for Leona Farnum on Saturday.

Hope Lovejoy returned home after a fantastic tour of the Caribbean.

Recent callers at the Lovejoy home have been Clarabelle Holden from Oxford and Kathleen Holden from West Paris.

There will be a dance at the Locke Mills Town Hall on May 23, with music by the Richard Felt Orchestra.

SUPPORTING THE ARTS-Northeast Bank is this year's major sponsor of the Ninth Annual Bethel Art Fair, to be held July 4 on the Common. Vi Hathaway's painting (above) will be featured on the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce's Art Fair poster. Anita Remington (left) of Northeast Bank and Paula Wheeler of the Chamber hold the painting. Sponsors are still needed for the Fourth of July fireworks. Anyone interested may call Wheeler at 824-2282.

This week at the

Moses Mason House

The 19th Annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show will be held on Saturday, May 30, at the Bethel Historical Society's Broad Street headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. All SAD44 elementary students (grades 1-6) are eligible to enter the juried show to produce a finished painting in any medium. This year's theme is "sleighs, sleds, carts, wagons, and carriages in the old days," and all entries should relate in some way to this theme. A committee of three artists will judge the more than 200 expected entries. Prizes will be given in three divisions and include ribbons, certificates, and cash.

The show honors the memory of Faye Sanborn Taylor (1908-1972), who was very interested in art for young artists. She was a founder of the Bethel Historical Society in 1966.

From the

Mundt-Allen Post

Mundt-Allen Post 81 held their installation ceremony on May 12, during which Post officers for the 1998-99 period were issued their formal charges and given their oaths of office. Installing officers, Edward Roach, Department of Maine finance officer, and David Sanborne, Department of Maine historian, traveled from Rumford for the ceremony. Post 81 chaplain, Sylvia Clanton acted as installing chaplain. Post officers for the next year are: commander, James Monahan; first vice, Norman Clanton; second vice, Donald Feeney; chaplains, Sylvia Clanton and Carolyn Brooks; adjutant, Ralph Brown; sergeants at arms, Emerson Clough and Frederick Burk; finance officer, John Head; historian, Arthur Gilbert; Americanism, Richard Grover.

Post members and guests were treated to an excellent roast beef dinner with all the trimmings just prior to the installation ceremonies. Post 81 Auxiliary president, Ramona Grover, planned and oversaw preparation and serving of the meal, assisted by long-time Auxiliary members Arlene Bean, Abbey Buswell, Ruth Kittredge, Fumi Head and others.

After installation, new Commander Monahan conducted an abbreviated meeting, where members voted on recipients of the Mundt-Allen Education Assistance Awards for next year and to contribute funds to the Jackson-Silver Post baseball team.

From the

Bethel Senior Citizens

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met at the Town and Country Inn for their 36th annual meeting on May 13. There were 73 members present who enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner. The birthday cakes were made by Helen Saunders and Louise Twitchell.

The door prize was won by Florence Briggs. The raffle, which was a May basket, was donated by JoAnn and Rudy Royer and won by Tillie Meyers. Fourteen birthday cards and two get-well cards were sent to members.

Jane Hosterman reported on the trip, which will be July 22 to the Desert of Maine in Freeport. A bus will leave the Bethel Health Center at 7:30 a.m. Cost of the trip is $20. It does not include dinner which will be at the Country Buffet in South Portland. Price of dinner is $5.95. Call Helen Saunders (836-3192) for more information. President Helen Saunders presented plants to the following: Randal Stevens, oldest member present; Sarah Stevens, charter member; and Muriel Faudi for her faithful service to the club.

May birthdays: Elsie Bennett, Barbara Brown, Dan Davis, Freda Davis, Cecile Ebert, Harlan Hutchins, Earlon Keniston, Marion Kimball, Mellen Kimball, Lois Leavitt, Cecile Lescault, Tillie Meyers, Rudolph Royer, Arthur Taber, Louise Twitchell, Donald Vautour, Joan Wilson and Marie Witter.

From the

Bethel Area C. of C.

All interested Bethel area residents and businesses are invited to attend a D.O.T. Public Hearing on the Route 26 Corridor Committee's proposed reconstruction plans on Wednesday, May 27, at 7 p.m. at the Mechanic Falls Fire Station.

All are invited to the first annual Bethel Antique Show and Sale to be held on Saturday, May 30, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Bethel Inn's Conference Center. Twenty-five exhibitors are scheduled to show and sell their high-quality antiques and collectibles. Admission is $2.50 per person and includes a presentation from 3 to 4 p.m. by Ben Werner of Crow Mountain Antiques in Shelburne, N.H. The committee is still seeking volunteers to help set up on Friday evening and Saturday morning.

ALTHEA S. BROWN

Althea (Sweeney) Brown, 80, of Bethel, died unexpectedly Saturday, May 16, 1998, in West Paris as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

She was born on June 30, 1917, in Millsfield, N.H., the daughter of the late John and Ada (Shallow) Sweeney. She was educated in the public schools of Errol, N.H., and Colebrook Academy. She moved to Bethel in 1937.

On May 4, 1940, she married Stanley Brown of Bethel. They lived together in Bethel until 1953 when they moved to Juneau, Alaska. Returning to Bethel in the spring of 1957, they built a new home on Eden Lane. In 1972, they moved to Northwest Bethel, where they again built a new home, which they were living in at the time of her death.

In 1937, she began work in Bethel for Dr. S.S. Greenleaf. Later she worked for a number of years as a cook as well as in other capacities. She retired in 1980 but continued to work from time to time providing child care.

Mrs. Brown was an avid cook and gardener. She enjoyed reading and other hobbies, but most enjoyed caring for and spend time with her grandchildren.

Survivors include her husband of 58 years; a daughter, Anne Dunbar of Auburn; a son, Corey of Rock Springs, Wyo.; four sisters: Charlotte Thompson of Worcester, Mass., Edna O'Neil of Ridgecrest, Calif., Lora Scanlon of Las Vegas, Nev., and Clarise Procon of Springfield, Mass.; two brothers, Mark of Lunenburg, Vt., and John of South Paris; four grandchildren, Sarah, Emily and Christopher Brown of Rock Springs, Wyo., and Andrew Benson of Athens, as well as her "adopted" grandson, Charles Dresser of Bethel. Mrs. Brown was predeceased by two sisters.

Funeral services were held at the Greenleaf Funeral Home, Bethel, on Tuesday, May 19, with interment in Riverside Cemetery, Bethel. Friends who wish may make memorial donations in Althea's memory to the rescue service of their choice.

OWEN R. PERRY

Owen R. Perry, 77, of Westbrook died Sunday, May 17, 1998, at Maine Medical Center in Portland. He was born in Rumford on March 2, 1921, son of Ernest and Louise Walsh Perry, and attended Rumford schools, graduating from Stephens High School. He made a career in Rumford, Lewiston and Portland as an engineer for New England Telephone and Telegraph.

He served in the U.S. Army during World War II as a paratrooper with the 101st Airborne, parachuting into Normandy on D-Day. He was a member of the 101st Airborne Division Association and a life-long member of the Knights of Columbus.

He was also an avid golfer and enjoyed a good pool tournament as a member of the Portland Woodfords Club.

Survivors include his wife of 48 years, Marjorie Law Perry of Westbrook; six sons, Stephen of Bethel, Matthew of Gray, Robert of Marshfield, Mass., Andrew of Portland, Martin of Westbrook, and Christopher of Augusta; two brothers, Vincent of New Hampshire and Timothy of California; four sisters, Ernestine of Gardiner, Mabel of Rumford, Mary Lobacz of Auburn, and Louise Cyr of Washington; two grandchildren; and one great-grandchild. He was predeceased by a son, Alexander, and a daughter, Janet.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held Wednesday, May 20, at St. Edmunds Church, Westbrook. If desired, donations can be made to the Muscular Dystrophy Association, 222 Auburn Street, Portland, ME 04103.

Thoughts from the Pastor's study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, brings you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words comfort and hope for your daily life.

One of the verses of the old church hymn, "Amazing Grace," is as follows: "Thro' many dangers, toils, and snares/I have already come./Tis grace hath brought me safe thus far./And grace will lead me home."

It does not take a lot of grace to be doctrinally sound -- any person may become an expert in doctrine simply by engaging in enough study.

It does not take a lot of grace to live by the letter of the law -- fear has motivated many a person to keep a strict set of rules, whether or not he or she agreed with those rules.

It does not take a lot of grace to give sacrificially of time and money -- many people give very generously and sacrificially to causes totally unrelated to the Kingdom of God.

But it does take the grace of God, poured out on individual lives, for the spirit of optimism to dominate thoughts and decisions in the darkest hours of life's experiences.

The question isn't, "Does this or that church have the Holy Spirit present?"

The question is, "Do you?"

Rev. John W. Grant, Senior Pastor
Bethel Church of the Nazarene
